

EMINENT DOCTORS CURE Catarrh

The heads of great hospitals, where scores of catarrhal patients are treated each year, are perhaps in the best position to appreciate the value of a remedy, which working along scientific, intelligent lines, brings permanent cure to even the chronic sufferer.

The staff of physicians of the Suffolk Hospital and Dispensary in Boston, where in less than two years 83,271 patients have been registered, do not hesitate to pronounce Rexall Mucu-Tone the best cure for catarrh they have ever used.

Albert C. Smith is the president and treasurer and the Hon. Chas. J. Noyes and the Hon. James Stevens are vice-presidents. The secretary is F. H. Wallace, M. D., and the superintendent is W. C. Clarke, M. D.

President Smith's letter should be read by every catarrh sufferer. We print it in full:

"It gives me great satisfaction to report to you that after a most careful trial of Rexall Mucu-Tone, the corps of physicians of our institution agree that this compound is the best cure for catarrh which we have ever used.

"In all catarrhal diseases of the bronchial and nasal passages; catarrh of the stomach, intestines, kidneys and bladder; catarrhal troubles of the generative organs of women, etc., Mucu-Tone has effected remarkable permanent cures.

"Mucu-Tone seems to act immediately upon the blood and mucous membranes, strengthening their cells and healing the inflammation.

"We shall continue to use this valuable preparation, for nothing can compare with it in the treatment of catarrh and its kindred troubles.

"Yours very truly,
A. C. SMITH, President."

Certainly such testimony as this must convince even the most skeptical—certainly it will justify us in requesting catarrhal sufferers to give Rexall Mucu-Tone a trial; to give it a chance to speak for itself. If you will do this we know you will continue taking it until cured.

Rexall Mucu-Tone

Is unlike all other catarrh remedies. It works through the blood vessels, going direct to the affected part whether in head, throat, stomach, kidneys or bladder; driving out the poisons and healing all inflammations of the mucous membranes. From the very first dose its strengthening influence will be felt and from four to six bottles will effect a complete cure of the worst cases. Your money back if not more than satisfied. We have a trial bottle for fifty cents, which we would like you to try on our recommendation.

John Trumbull sat opposite me, and even then I felt a curious interest in him—a big, full bearded man, quite six feet tall, his skin and eyes dark, his hair iron gray, his voice deep like David's. I could not get over the impression that I had seen him before—a feeling I have had often since men I could never possibly have met. No word came out of his firm mouth, as he was addressed, and then all in a sudden he listened to the little he had to say. It was never more than some looking of an ox, and you shall see as perfectly as my feeble words can help you to do this remarkable man who must hereafter play before you his part—compared to which mine is as the prattle of a child—in this drama of God's truth.

"You have not heard," said Mrs. Fuller, addressing me, "how Mr. Trumbull saved Hope's life."

"Saved her life?" I exclaimed.

"Saved her life," she repeated.

"There isn't a doubt of it. We never sent word of it for fear it would give you all needless worry. It was a day of last winter—fell crossing Broadway, a dangerous place. He pulled her aside just in time. The horse's feet were raised above her. She would have been crushed in a moment. He lifted her in his arms and carried her to the sidewalk not a bit the worse for it."

"Seems as if it were fate," said Hope. "I had seen him so often and wondered who he was. I recall a night when I had to come home alone from rehearsal. I was horribly afraid. I remember passing him under a street lamp. If he had spoken to me then I should have dropped with fear, and he would have had to carry me home that time."

"It's an odd thing a girl like you should ever have to walk home alone," said Mr. Fuller. "Doesn't speak well for our friend Livingstone, or Burnham there, or Dobbs."

"Mrs. Fuller doesn't give us half a chance," said Livingstone. "She guards her day and night. It's like the monks and the holy grail."

"Hope is independent of the young men," said Mrs. Fuller as we rose from the table. "If I cannot go with her myself in the carriage I always send a maid or a man servant to walk home with her. But Mr. Fuller and I were out of town that night, and the young men missed their great opportunity."

"Had a different way o' sparkin' years ago," said Uncle Eb. "Didn't hev 't please anybody but the girl then. If ye liked a girl ye went an' sot up with her an' gin her a smack an' tol' her right out plain an' square what ye wanted. An' her settled it one way or 'other. An' her mother she slep' in the next room, with the door half open, an' never paid no 'tention. Recollec' one cool night when I was sparkin' the mother hollered out o' bed, 'Lucy, hev ye got anythin' round ye?' an' she hollered back, 'Yis, mother.' An' she bed, too, but 'twan't nothin' but my arm."

They laughed merrily over the quaint reminiscence of my old friend and the quaint way he had of telling it. The rude dialect of the backwoodsman might have seemed oddly out of place there but for the quiet, unassuming manner and the fine old face of Uncle Eb, in which the duldest eye might see the soul of a gentleman.

"What became of Lucy?" Mr. Fuller inquired laughingly. "You never married her?"

"Lucy died," he answered soberly. "That was long ago."

Then he went away with John Trumbull to the smoking room, where I found them talking earnestly in a corner when it was time to go to the church with Hope.

CHAPTER XX.

HOPE and Uncle Eb and I went away in a coach with Mrs. Fuller. There was a great crowd in the church that covered, with sweeping arches, an interior more vast than any I had ever entered. Hope was gowning in white silk, a crescent of diamonds in her hair, a birthday gift from Mrs. Fuller.

First Henry Cooper came on with his violin—a great master as I now remember him. Then Hope ascended to the platform, her dainty kid slippers showing under her gown, and the odious Livingstone escorting her. I was never so madly in love or so insanely jealous. I must confess it, for I am trying to tell the whole truth of myself—I was a fool. And it is the greatest folly that one says ever "I was" and never "I am" in that plea. I could even see it myself then and there, but I was so great a fool I smiled and spoke fairly to the young man, although I could have wrung his neck with rage. There was a little stir and a passing whisper in the crowd as she stood waiting for the prelude. Then she sang the ballad of "Auld Robin Grey," not better than I had heard her sing it before, but so charmingly there were murmurs of delight going far and wide in the audience when she had finished. Then she sang the fine melody of "Angels Ever Bright and Fair."

An old ballad.

Great baskets of roses were handed to her as she came down from the platform, and my confusion was multiplied by their number, for I had not thought to bring any myself.

I turned to Uncle Eb, who now and then had furtively wiped his eyes.

"My stars!" he whispered. "Ain't it ree-markable grand! Never heard her seen nothin' like that in all my born days. An' I think it's my little Hope!"

He could go no further. His handkerchief was in his hand, while he took refuge in silence.

Going home the flowers were heaped upon our laps, and I, with Hope beside me, felt some restoration of comfort.

"Did you see Trumbull?" Mrs. Fuller asked. "He sat back of us and did seem to enjoy it so much—your singing. He was almost cheerful."

"Tell me about Mr. Trumbull," I said. "He is interesting."

"Speculator," said Mrs. Fuller. "A strange man, successful, silent, unmarried, and I think, in love. Has beautiful rooms, they say, on Gramercy park. Lives alone with an old servant. We got to know him through the accident. Mr. Fuller and he have done business together, a great deal of it since then. Operates in the stock market."

BOYS IN A PANIC

Four Crushed to Death and Many Injured in Accident at Indianapolis.

STAMPEDE IN STAIRWAY

Newsboys Lined Up to Go to Theater Fall in Deadly Crush at Masonic Temple.

Stairway Was Filled, Boys in Lower Rank Stumbled and Others Fell Upon Them.

Indianapolis, April 18.—Four newsboys were crushed to death and a score or more injured, some seriously, in a strangely fateful accident last evening in the stairway of the Masonic Temple. All the boys ranged in age from nine to sixteen years.

The dead—Ed Morrissey, twelve years old, 832 East Maryland street; Louis Scheigert, aged fifteen, 621 Downey avenue; Floyd Poland, aged eight, 815 Sanders street; Homer Williamson, aged eleven, 1336 Kappus street.

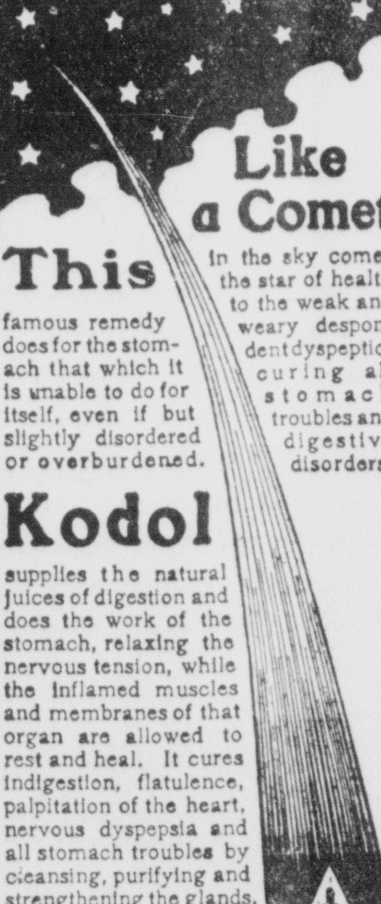

The boys had been invited to attend a play as a treat to the newsboys of the city. During the day they had been given tickets and were gathered in Masonic Temple to receive seat checks.

The accident was caused by the innocent play of some of the boys while coming down the stairway. Those in front were pushed over, and the boys who were pushing at the rear of the crowd caused the others to fall over the front rank. In an instant there was a great mass of struggling boys reaching from the landing half way up the stairs to the doorway facing the sidewalk.

So tightly were the little fellows wedged in that men who ran to their assistance from the street were unable to pull any of them out without the breaking of arms or legs. The pile of humanity was compelled to remain there, with the exception of a few boys who were on the top of the pile, until the men entered the building by the side entrance and made their way to the second floor. From there the men rescued the boys as quickly as possible. In spite of the ready assistance of a score of willing hands, many of the little fellows were crushed beneath the pile of suffering and bleeding humanity. The boys were carried back to the second floor of the Masonic building and physicians were summoned from all over the city. The city hospital and dispensary ambulances were used and the patrol wagons were pressed into service.

The boys had gone to the Masonic hall to get seat-checks to a performance at the Unique theater as the guests of a patent medicine company. During the day the tickets were distributed to the boys with instructions to go to the hall for the seat checks, and march from there to the theater.

It was a happy, orderly crowd of little fellows that assembled in a body to go out, all supplied with their seats. They marched to the head of the stairs and started down in a romping manner. The trouble started when some of the boys immediately behind those in the front rank placed their hands on the shoulders of those in front of them and began lifting themselves up. It was great sport for an instant, to be followed by the terrible scene. When the first boy fell down the stairway the boy behind him quickly followed and in less time than it takes to tell it, the great pile of suffering and suffocating lads were in a life and death struggle.

The catastrophe evidently had little effect on about 400 of the "newsies," who, instead of returning home to relieve the minds of anxious parents, went to the Unique theater.

A MANIAC'S DEED

So Claims the Defense in Hegewich Arson Trial.

Chicago, April 18.—After an unusual statement by Attorney Moritz Rosenthal, testimony began in the trial of Banker I. N. Perry, accused of burning a large manufacturing establishment at Hegewich, Ill., the alleged motive for the crime being insurance money. Mr. Rosenthal declared the defense would prove that a maniac had set fire to the manufacturing plant owned by Mr. Perry. The maniac, Mr. Rosenthal said, had set a series of fifteen blazes in the town of Hegewich from May to October of last year, and had never been detected. The attorney insisted on the point that although a number of circumstances might point to Mr. Perry as guilty of arson, the conclusion of defendant's guilt is not necessarily logical and correct.

Held the Divorced Husband.

Marshalltown, Ia., April 18.—The coroner's jury investigating the death of the Indian girl, Ma Sha Che, returned a verdict of murder at the hands of George Soldier, who was the last person seen with her. Soldier was taken to Cedar Rapids by federal officers. Another young Indian named Poeshiek is suspected of complicity. Soldier was the divorced husband of the girl.

NEWSPAPER FAKIRS

Try to Make It Appear They Are in Touch With President.

Glenwood Springs, April 18.—Before President Roosevelt penetrates the wilds so far that communication with the outside world will be next to impossible, Secretary Loeb, with the aid of the courier daily expected from the camp, will get in the president's trail and visit him in the mountains. The visit will be for the purpose of taking up with the president a number of important matters that have come to the headquarters here since Saturday. There are a number of commissions to be signed as well as departmental business that has been forwarded.

Wild stories of the hunt, most of them obviously faked, have reached here. Secretary Loeb does not credit them. Several of these stories have been investigated and it has been discovered that the tale bearer could not have received reliable information from the president's camp.

An illustration of the dearth of authentic news or picture material was noticed about a mile from the Hotel Colorado. A photographer representing a syndicate selling pictures to daily newspapers attached a wire to the telegraph line running through a wild section of the mountain country and attached a telegraph instrument to the wire, using a stump of a tree as a table. An assistant then posed for a picture which will be sold to newspapers in alleged representation of the manner in which news is sent from the vicinity of the president's camp. As a matter of course there is no telegraph line within miles of the original camp of the party. The hunters intend to roam over a large area, covering probably 150 miles before the hunt is concluded.

ALL IS REGULAR

Government Denies Allegations in Senator Mitchell's Plea.

Portland, Ore., April 18.—In answer to United States Senator John H. Mitchell's charges that the federal grand jury which brought indictments against him in connection with land frauds in this state was an illegal body and that United States District Attorney Henri was prejudiced, Mr. Henri has introduced affidavits relating the fact of his appointment as district attorney and declaring that he bears no malice toward any of the defendants from any causes whatever. The affidavits also certify that George Gurin, the juror whose citizenship is questioned by the defense, is a naturalized citizen of the United States.

Honor Easily Satisfied.

Havana, April 18.—One of the results of the score on April 14 by six Nationalist congressmen of papers in the case of the alleged improper acts by Nationalist councilmen and officials of the city of Havana, was a duel with swords yesterday between Congressman Carlos Mendieta and Armando Andre, a government employee, who had written a letter to a newspaper strongly condemnatory of Mendieta and the other congressmen concerned in the seizure of the papers. Mendieta is said to have inflicted a trifling wound on his opponent's arm, and the honor of both the duelists was thereupon considered to have been satisfied.

Escaped From His Keeper.

Stamford, Conn., April 18.—Terry McGovern, the pugilist who was brought to the Stamford Hall sanitarium Sunday night, escaped from a keeper yesterday afternoon while taking a walk on the grounds of the institution. A careful watch is being kept for him. McGovern, according to the sanitarium physician, is suffering from nervous, mental and physical exhaustion and it was expected that he would stay here several months.

A HONG KONG RUMOR

Has It That Rojstevsky Is Sailing Northeast From There, but This Is Not Confirmed.

London Press Much Exercised Over the Probability of a Violation of Neutrality.

Paris, April 18.—A dispatch from St. Petersburg to the Echo de Paris states that Vice Admiral Rojstevsky, with a portion of his squadron, has been sighted off Hong Kong, sailing northeast. This is not confirmed from other sources.

London, April 18.—In the absence of further information regarding the position of the Russian and Japanese fleets the London papers are keenly discussing the neutrality question, for the most part in a strong pro-Japanese tone. The Morning Post takes the milder view that Kamran bay is a mere fishing port and unable to provide coal or other supplies to the Russian squadron, which probably took shelter there to replenish from its own coilers, and that though a technical breach of neutrality has been committed, the French authorities could hardly be held responsible unless it can be proven that they had previous knowledge of Rojstevsky's intentions.

The Daily Mail's correspondent at Singapore gives a further report from the North German Lloyd steamer Prinz Heinrich, that on Friday, April 14, the Russian cruisers Dmitri Don-ski and Rion were scouting outside the bay while a tug was bringing colliers alongside of warships, which were coaling, and that many boats were transferring provisions to Russian vessels.

The correspondent at Hong Kong of the Daily Mail reports that the steamer North Anglia late Friday night sighted a strong fleet of cruisers off Bombay reef steering south and using searchlights. The North Anglia was unable to distinguish the nationality of the cruisers.

No More Needless Destruction. St. Petersburg, April 18.—General Linevitch has issued an order forbidding officials of the commissariat to burn stores prematurely and removing officials in cases that have already occurred. The order directs that storehouses be only destroyed hereafter by permission of the commanders of army corps and divisions.

Japs Heavily Reinforced.

Singapore, April 18.—Captured Japanese spies place the number of the Japanese army at 400,000 and state that the losses at the battle of Mukden are already being replaced by drafts from home battalions. Lieutenant Komayashi, one of the spies, calculates that the Japanese losses at Mukden were over 100,000.

TOOK THE MONUMENT

McKinley Memorial at Logansport Seized by Unpaid Sculptor.

Logansport, Ind., April 18.—In broad daylight, C. D. Billman, a sculptor, yesterday removed from its pedestal in City park an heroic statue to William McKinley which had been erected by citizens as a memorial to the martyred president. Billman alleges that the statue had not been paid for. Taking advantage of the absence of all city officials at a Municipal League meeting yesterday afternoon, Billman backed a wagon against the base of the monument and with the aid of a block and tackle transferred the monument to the back yard of his home.

The monument was arranged for by a committee of citizens shortly after McKinley's assassination. Subscription papers were circulated to raise funds, but through some mistake Billman alleges he was never compensated. The statue represented a draped female figure holding a laurel wreath.

Court Sounds Deathknell.

Philadelphia, April 18.—By a vote of 5 to 2 the supreme court decided that Mrs. Catherine Danz must hang for the murder of her husband, Wm. G. Danz. George P. Hossey, a colored voodoo doctor, has also received the death sentence for the part he took in the murder of Danz.

He Went Home.

New York, April 18.—Terry McGovern, who escaped from a sanitarium at Stamford, Conn., is at his home in Brooklyn where he is being cared for by his wife.

Courage is a Matter of the Blood.

Without good red blood a man has a weak heart and poor nerves. Anemia means thinness of blood. It is common in men and young women and all those who work indoors, who do not get enough outdoor air and good oxygen in their lungs. There are too many white blood corpuscles in such cases, and there is often a peculiar sound in the heart, called a murmur, in cases of anemia. This heart murmur is caused by thinness of the blood passing through the heart. The murmur of anemia disappears when the blood regains its natural consistency and richness. It is not heart disease. Sometimes people suffer intense pain over the heart, which is not heart disease, but caused by the stomach. It is the occasion of much anxiety, alarm and suffering, for which its victim is dependent upon reflex disturbances from the stomach caused by indigestion. In the same way many bad coughs are dependent upon these reflex disturbances of what is called the pneumogastric nerve. To enrich the blood and increase the red blood corpuscles thereby feeding the nerves on rich red blood and doing away with nervous irritability, take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, which promotes digestion and assimilation of food so that the blood gets its proper supply of nourishment from the stomach. Get as near to nature's way as you can. A medicine made entirely of botanical extracts and which does not contain alcohol is the safest. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery contains no alcohol or narcotics. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are the best liver pills.

STOP! WOMEN,

AND CONSIDER THE
ALL-IMPORTANT FACT

That in addressing Mrs. Pinkham you are confiding your private ills to a woman—a woman whose experience with woman's diseases covers a great many years. You can talk freely to a woman when it is revolting to relate your private troubles to a man—besides a man does not understand—simply because he is a man.

Many women suffer in silence and drift along from bad to worse, knowing full well that they ought to have immediate assistance, but a natural modesty impels them to shrink from exposing themselves to the questions and probably examinations of even their family physician. It is unnecessary. Without money or price you can consult a woman whose knowledge from actual experience is great.

Mrs. Pinkham's Standing Invitation:

Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to promptly communicate with Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass. All letters are received, opened, read and answered by women only. A woman can freely talk of her private illness to a woman; thus has been established the eternal confidence between Mrs. Pinkham and the women of America which has never been broken. Out of the vast volume of experience which she has to draw from, it is more than possible that she has gained the very knowledge that will help your case. She asks nothing in return except your good-will, and her advice has relieved thousands. Surely any woman, rich or poor, is very foolish if she does not take advantage of this generous offer of assistance.—Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

Following we publish two letters from a woman who accepted this invitation. Note the result.

First letter.

"Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"For eight years I have suffered something terrible every month with my periods. The pains are excruciating and I can hardly stand them. My doctor says I have ovarian and womb trouble, and I must go through an operation if I want to get well. I do not want to submit to it if I can possibly help it. Please tell me what to do. I hope you can relieve me."—Mrs. Mary Dimmick, 50th and E. Capitol Sts., Benning P.O., Washington, D.C.

Second letter.

"Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"After following carefully your advice, and taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, I am very anxious to send you my testimonial, that others may know their value and what you have done for me."

DISCORDANT NOTES.

Jefferson day has passed again and if Thomas could only know the widely different interpretations put on his political doctrines and teachings by the different brands of democracy he would certainly be disgusted or conclude that he had not made himself clear. In New York Judge Parker in his after-dinner speech said that Jefferson was a conservative statesman, altogether free from radicalism and urged the party to get back to the good old days of Jeffersonian simplicity if they ever hoped to be successful in another presidential campaign. At the same dinner Mr. Jerome declared that Jefferson never was a democrat, but a stiff-necked, selfish man, removed as far as possible from the people. But John W. Kern in his New York speech extolled Jefferson, crediting him with everything that is good in democracy. But Mr. Kern said the country had prospered and made wonderful strides in everything that tends to the happiness and welfare of the people.

The newspapers in the homes, the telephones, rural mail delivery were sprouting the stump speaker. The people are doing their own thinking, he said, and he might have added that all these advances have been made under republican administrations. Mr. Kern talks like a democrat without hope for his party. But while these things were being said in New York, Bryan was making an after dinner speech in Chicago. He said Jefferson was a radical of radicals and claimed that if he were living today he would be with that wing of democracy which has espoused socialism in its various forms and would stand for the public ownership of all public utilities. These discordant notes of democracy are amusing to the republicans for they see that same lack of unanimity that has characterized the democratic party so long. They can not get together on Jefferson any more than they can agree on a declaration of modern day political principles. The student of history knows that Jefferson was a statesman and a patriot and were he living now he would doubtless be a republican. He would not be satisfied to ally himself with the democratic party which is at war with itself and without a fixed party principle.

FOR FORTY YEARS

Miss Harriet E. Colfax—Kept the Lighthouse at Michigan City.

DIED AT RIPE OLD AGE

She Kept Her Place Until Last Fall When Changed Conditions Caused Her Resignation.

Niece of Schuyler Colfax Is Dead at Michigan City at the Age of Eighty-One.

Michigan City, Ind., April 18.—Miss Harriet E. Colfax, for more than forty years keeper of the lighthouse of the Michigan City harbor, is dead of disabilities caused by old age. She was in her eighty-first year. She was the niece of the late Vice President Schuyler Colfax. Miss Colfax was born in Ogdensburg, N. Y., and came to Michigan City in 1853, and began teaching music in the public schools. In 1861, through the influence of Schuyler Colfax, she was appointed keeper of the lighthouse, and she was in the service until the government established beacon lights and placed them on the piers, and abolished the old lighthouse ashore, which was built in 1858, converting it into a dwelling for the keeper of the pier lights and the new fog signal station. The change made it necessary for men to take charge of the lights, and Miss Colfax resigned last fall, and moved uptown. She had been feeble for more than a year.

ALLEGED WIRE-TAPPERS

Saloon at Roby Raided and Three Men Captured.

Hammond, Ind., April 18.—Three alleged wire-tappers were arrested at Roby on a "tip" from the Western Union Telegraph company. Chief of Police Cox visited the saloon of ex-Alderman John J. Brennan of Hammond and arrested three men, who gave their names as Dan McMahon, Michael McGuire and Luke McGuire, and their occupation as telegraph operators. The men were taken before Judge McMahon in the city police court and charged on affidavit and information with interfering with Western Union wires by Prosecuting Attorney Boone. The court placed them under $200 bonds apiece for hearing.

When the police entered the saloon they found that leading through a bedroom in the second story of the building were wires running alongside a telephone wire. In an adjacent room was a complete apparatus for sending and receiving racing news and recording bets. The telegraph instruments, telephones, condensers and all paraphernalia were confiscated by the police. Hand-book keepers in Hammond, Whiting and East Chicago collected bets in three places and telephoned them to Brennan's and from thence they were sent to Chicago.

CORROBORATIVE TESTIMONY

Mrs. Leslie Carter Gives Evidence Against Alleged Theatrical Trust.

New York, April 18.—Corroboration of David Belasco's testimony regarding his meeting in Philadelphia with Nixon and Zimmerman was furnished in the supreme court by Mrs. Leslie Carter, in the trial of the case of Mr. Belasco against Klaw and Erlanger. Both Belasco and Mrs. Carter allege that Klaw and Erlanger were Mr. Belasco's partners in the production of "The Auctioneer," with David Warfield in the title role. Mrs. Carter testified that Mr. Belasco told Mr. Nixon that he had turned over fifty per cent of Warfield's profits to Mr. Erlanger, and that Nixon said he would come time bring Erlanger to terms for alleged double dealing. Mrs. Carter said that she had been turned out of theater after theater, controlled by Klaw and Erlanger. Marc Klaw testified that his firm made $20,000 in "The Auctioneer," and also shared in the profits of the theater, but that he had no partner, except through Jos. Brooks, who paid the $20,000. Mr. Belasco, recalled to the stand, said that in 1900-01, he could not get a theatrical route without the assistance of Klaw and Erlanger and then only by giving up fifty per cent of the profits. Bookkeeper Aaron, of the Klaw-Erlanger company, said all of the expenses of "The Auctioneer" were charged to his firm.

The funeral of Dr. H. C. Whitmer this afternoon was attended by quite a large number of friends. Services were conducted by Dr. G. W. Shields.

IN A FEW DAYS

We shall have with us again that brightest, gayest season of the year—that season that bespeaks flowers and blossoming trees and twittering birds; the season of change from the old to the new.—Easter.

The Gold Mine.

We have searched the markets well.

In the Millinery Department we have covered the wholesale field for new styles, new shapes and new effects, and from the modest street hat to the ultra-modest dress article. We have endeavored to combine in the highest possible degree—style, workmanship, quality and price. There is no recent style which is not represented in our Hat Department—no effect which our trimming force can not produce.

In the Dress Goods Department our shelves seem alive with their colors and shades which, blending and contrasting, seem to be holding an Easter Celebration in this department itself. We have earnestly endeavored to secure our share of seasonable merchandise in this line and believe we have succeeded.

In the fashionable cloths—Mohairs, Eolennies, wool and Silk Voiles—throughout the entire line of fashionable fabrics we are fully prepared to meet your every want, and at prices that are hardly in keeping with the splendid offerings in this line.

A very recent New York invoice enables us to show you a line of Silks in Waistings and Suitings which is absolutely beyond any local competition. The late shades which have appeared within just the last few weeks are here fully represented.

In the Wash Goods Department is the largest and most select line in Southern Indiana. Mercerized fabrics in Waistings and Suitings that rival Silk itself are here in Mohairs, Etamines, Shantung, Silk, Ginghams, Zephyrs and Muslins, Eolennies, Solettes and Fil de Soies. In White Goods our line is excellent, and new patterns are added thereto almost daily.

Our Ready-to-Wear Department is fully able to cater to the most fastidious trade, and welcomes inspections and comparisons with other lines. Dozens of new suits fresh from Eastern designers are now in; these are not on sale at fancy prices, but on the basis of regular stock.

Shirtwaists in every conceivable style and effect are here—all that you have seen in the Fashion Journals and scores of others besides. In this department your attention is invited to our extra large invoice of Ready-to-Wear Skirts—these at prices which are ridiculous at this season of the year.

Over the entire store are scattered new things for Eastertide. There are new designs in belts, in ladies' and children's neck wear, in hand bags, in hosiery novelties in the thousand-and-one things which go to complete the feminine wardrobe of necessities and luxuries.

There are many new things in Muslin underwear which you most certainly must appreciate if you but see them.

And just now the dutiful housewife is busy planning for the renewing and beautifying of the home. Let us say that in our basement we are well stocked with all sorts of conveniences to help you in this work—from carpet tacks to ready mixed paints. Here also is our big line of glassware, china, tin, and granite wares, etc.

In our Carpet Department is every weave and design known to the carpet and matting trade. Our orders which were placed six months ago, before the recent advance in raw material in this line, enable us to undersell all competition in carpets, mattings, rugs, linoleums and oilcloths.

Don't forget that our big stock and large purchasing power in lace curtains, door panels and window shades means a saving to you.

MUCH EXTRA WORK

New Law: Giving State Officials a Bit of "Overtime."

Indianapolis, Ind., April 18.—The promulgation of the acts of the recent legislature has given the state officials and their deputies a lot of extra work. At the secretary of state's office hundreds of requests are being received for copies of the acts. The new law regulating the speed of automobiles is now in effect and licenses must be procured of the secretary of state. Each machine must be numbered. The secretary of state is already deluged with applications for license. John R. Walsh, jr., of Chicago, son of the millionaire owner of the Southern Indiana road was given No. 13, at his own request. There are now several hundred automobiles in Indiana and the revenue for license fees will be considerable. Many requests are being received at Auditor Sherrick's office for copies of the private banking law. It is probable that many private banks will soon incorporate as state banks. The attorney general and his deputies have had good reason for sometime to know that new laws had been enacted, as they are receiving hundreds of letters from people throughout the entire state asking for construction on various points. The governor's office also feels the effect—in fact there are few people at the state capital who are not being asked for some information regarding the new statutes.

When asked what he would do towards the enforcement of the anti-cigarette law where there are metropolitan police boards the governor replied: "You know my answer to that question or any similar question. The law is on the statute books. I pledged myself and the people of the state that I would enforce the law. Of course I will see to its enforcement as far as possible." Anderson, Muncie, Richmond, Lafayette, Logansport, New Albany, Jeffersonville, Vincennes, Kokomo, Hammond, Marion and Elwood are under the metropolitan police board law. It is probable that the governor will soon direct the boards to strictly enforce the law. Mayor Holtzman is in some doubt as to the full purport of the law but he said today that he proposes to have it enforced. If a man is caught smoking a cigarette the mayor said he need not come to him with a plea to have the charge dismissed, but owing to the uncertainty about the law he believes the smokers should be amply warned and given some leeway before the police begin a crusade. The attorney general says the law not only forbids the sale or smoking of cigarettes, but prohibits one from having them in his possession.

Throughout the state county clerks are in doubt as to how to proceed in issuing marriage licenses. The new law which took effect Saturday night provided for a uniform certificate prepared by the state board of health. The latter sent out a form several days ago but it has not yet met to formally adopt it as the law required. County clerks were expecting word from the state board that the advance form had been adopted but the members of the board failed to meet and seemed in doubt as to how to proceed. Secretary Hurly finally besought Attorney General Miller for an opinion. The attorney general promptly decided that licenses can be issued either under the old or the new law until the board and the clerks get matters straightened out regarding the certificate. It is understood that many clerks did a rushing marriage license business during the hour preceding the promulgation of the law, many grooms anticipating there might be a delay in getting the new law under way. The new form will be legally adopted as soon as possible.

The resignation of C. F. C. Hancock of Jeffersonville as senator from Clarke, Scott and Jennings counties, was received yesterday afternoon by Governor Hanly who shortly afterward wrote to Hancock refusing to accept it. Hancock is said to be very sorry because Senator Hemenway refused to appoint him he recommended for postmaster at Jeffersonville and Charleston. Hancock, it is said, refused to discuss the situation when informed of the governor's action. His position is regarded as unusual. He is the first republican to be elected to represent the district of Clarke, Scott and Jennings.

The state printing board is thus far unable to agree on a successor to Thomas Carter, clerk, whose resignation was recently accepted. Governor Hanly and Auditor Sherrick voted for T. C. Clifton, Covington, but Secretary of State Storms and Supreme Court Reporter Self voted for Harry Slough, Indianapolis. The governor is determined to name Clifton, but it is said that Storms and Self will never vote for him.

Completing Mine Merger.

Terre Haute, Ind., April 18.—A coal operator says that by July 1 the mine merging process in Sullivan and Greene counties will be completed, resulting in four companies. It is understood that not only is every desirable mine wanted, but thousands of acres of coal land as well. There are thirty mines in the two counties, but the desirable lands are held in many instances independent of the company operating the mine. The same operator said that $10,000,000 is not too high a figure for the valuation of the entire property to be merged.

About Rheumatism.

One application of Pain Balm will relieve the pain, and hundreds of sufferers have testified to permanent cures by its use. Why suffer when Pain Balm affords such quick relief and costs but a trifle?
